Breaks	Any stoppage of the move that is in control of the mover, not the shipper, hence also known as a scheduled break, e.g. coffee break, lunch break, rest break
Break Points	Numerical points at which the price will be less, if the goods are based on the next higher unit of weight. Usually determined by a unitized table of weight.
Bulky Goods	Goods of unusual size and low-weight density, often requiring special accessorial servicing, with attending extra charges, e.g. boats, snowmobiles, hot tubs

A formal document required by law noting clearly all services to be performed and their respective charges, which is not subject to change.</li><li>2. Non-Binding: an approximation made by the mover of the total cost of the move and/or storage, based upon a physical survey. A formal document required by law noting clearly all services to be performed and their respective charges, which may be subject to change.</li></ol>
Extra Stop	Any stop for a pickup or delivery of goods, requested by the shipper, in addition to travel from point of origin to destination.
Force Majeure	Anything beyond the control of the mover and the shipper which impedes the contracted for move and/or storage, e.g. inclement weather, poor roads, road construction, etc.

Holidays	Any day designated as such by either State or Federal government is a legal holiday . Any day so designated by a religion is a religious holiday . A holiday may be a day on which a mover chooses not to offer his services (“day off”), or it may be a day on which a mover may offer their services but at a higher rate (“working holiday”).
Household Goods	Goods normally considered part of a personal residence; abbreviated “HHG”
Insurance	A type of coverage elected by the shipper, the charge and terms of which are determined by the mover, in conjunction with his insurance carrier. The carrier offers a particular policy, as the carrier is not licensed to sell insurance. A certificate of insurance , sometimes known as an advice of coverage , is issued to the shipper, stating in brief the charges and terms of the policy. This is a document separate and distinct from the estimate, order for service, and bill of lading.
Inventory	A schedule of all goods contracted for shipment
LBS or lbs.	US pound weight.
Long Carry	An accessorial service provided when goods are at an extended distance from the actual unloading point of the moving vehicle to the actual destination, as caused by an obstruction beyond the control of the mover, e.g., narrow street, unfinished driveway
Moving Vehicle	Any vehicle registered with the Division of Consumer Affairs, which has been duly lettered and approved for the moving.

N/a	Not applicable
Net Weight	Weight of a moving vehicle as determined by the subtraction of the tare weight from the gross weight, and verified by an official weigh ticket, issued and signed by a weigh master.
Order for Service	A formal document required by law noting the origin and destination of the move, who is to pay for the cost of the move, with an "Important Notice" receipt acknowledgment. Once signed by the mover and the shipper, it becomes the contract for the move, based upon a physical survey and a written estimate.
Overnight Hold	Goods stored on a moving vehicle overnight in lieu of a formal storage facility.
PBO	Goods that have been packed-by-owner
Packing/Unpacking	An accessorial service involving the packing and unpacking of the goods by the mover, at the point of origin and point of destination.
Point of Destination	Location at which the goods are unloaded
Point of Origin	Location at which the goods are loaded
Portal-to-Portal	Travel time as determined from when the moving vehicle leaves its regular base to the point of origin, and when the move is completed, from the point of destination to when the moving vehicle returns to its regular base. This includes travel time from point of origin to point of destination.
Regular Time	Monday through Friday, 8:00AM to 5:00PM. Also known as straight time
Special Commodities	Goods which are classified as neither household goods nor office goods; specifically defined by the Public Movers & Warehousemen Licensing Act

Standard Valuation	This type of coverage is the minimum required by state law. It is calculated at $1.00 per pound per article, regardless of the article's original retail value, current resale value, or intrinsic or personal worth. Even if higher valuation coverage has been elected by the shipper, if the cost of the damages is less than the stated deductible, standard valuation is applied as it is always in effect. Standard valuation is a limitation of the mover's liability for cargo damage, rather than a coverage policy per se. There is never any cost to the shipper for this type of coverage. This type of coverage must be duly noted on the estimate, order for service, and the bill of lading. Standard valuation is also known as statutory minimum liability , standard release rate , release value , released value , and basic value .
Tare Weight	Weight of an unloaded moving vehicle, with a full fuel tank and all equipment necessary for the contracted move, without driver and crew on board, prior to formal weighing at a State certified scale.
Third Party	A person or entity, other than the mover, who provides services requested by the shipper, through an arrangement with the mover. A third party lacking its own license must provide its service under the authority of the licensed mover and cannot charge the shipper directly.
Travel Time	The time required by a moving vehicle to proceed from the point of origin to the point of destination. See Portal-to-Portal .
Valuation	This type of coverage is elected by the shipper, who declares a particular value on the entire shipment, or more often, on selected articles of a shipment, usually of an extraordinary resale or intrinsic value. The charges and terms for this type of coverage are separate from other charges and terms pertaining to the contracted for move, which are determined by the mover. This type of coverage must be noted on the order for service and the bill of lading. This type of coverage is optional for the mover, as it is not mandated by either statute or regulation. Valuation is also known as additional valuation , higher valuation , declared value , or declared valuation .

Weight & Mileage

Terms & Conditions

Hourly Moving

The hourly rate begins when the moving vehicle and crew arrive at the point of origin of the contracted for move, and ends when all of the goods are unloaded at the point of destination, less any scheduled breaks and/or any vehicular breakdown, plus any applicable travel time. The standard hourly rate is from Monday to Saturday, from 9:00AM to 5:00PM. The overtime hourly rate is any time in excess of the standard hourly rate, i.e. from 5:01PM to 8:59AM. The holiday hourly rate follows the holiday schedule in the Rates & Charges section, from 9:00AM to 5:00PM. All hourly rates are computed in accordance with the schedules in the Rates & Charges section.

NOTE: For goods going into storage, the hourly rate ends after all of the goods are unloaded onto the warehouse dock. After that, warehouse rates and charges apply. The reverse is applied for goods going out of storage.

Weight & Mileage Moving

A weight and mileage shall be computed according to the tare weight, less the gross weight, of the moving vehicle(s), as determined either by cubic measurement or by actual weighing, as verified by weigh tickets produced at a State certified weigh station, plus the mileage between the point of origin and point of destination. The shipper is permitted to be present at the time of weighing, and will be supplied with a copy of the weigh tickets, upon final payment, if specifically requested.

Re-Weighing

Before the actual start of the unloading of a shipment weighed at origin, and after the shipper is informed of the billing weight and total charges, the shipper may request a re-weigh. The charges will then be based upon the difference between the gross weight and the tare of the shipment. A charge of $150.00 will be applied for this service.

Travel Time Mileage

6	-	10	miles	1 hour
